"We want to get a picture of you in fighting togs, so that the kins, five up and three to play.

"Well, they'll all get a good chance to see what I look like on July 2," answered Georges, who declined to strip for pictures.

There is a quiet sort of confidence about this young Frenchman who does not begin to size up in stature with the champion. Some one, and there was almost a yard full of newspapermen at Manhasset today, cracked a few carefully selected words at Georges about Dempsey's weight.

"I hear that Dempsey weighs 184 pounds,' Carpentier said. "I don't care. I shall weigh about 172 pounds when I fight him."

ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE CANNOT BUY TWO WORDS IN THESE COLUMNS A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK

SEVERAL months ago when the wave of general depression general depression swept over this nation, which had been keyed up for the strain of war, many ceased to be optimists and swung to the other side. Fortunately many big business men refused to believe the country was going to the dogs and kept up the fight. They are receiving their reward now. They are reaping a harvest and will continue to reap while others are struggling to build up and overcome what they have lost,

It was a trying time. Much courage was required to keep up the pace set while the dollars were rolling in. Keen foresight and absolute confidence only prompted men to decline to cut their advertising, reduce the personnel of their organizations and do other things that many declared was suicide.

The results have more than proved that those who had confidence are the winners. With business fast picking up they are not required to start over. They are prepared to meet any demand while the pessimists are struggling with the problems confronting

The outlook is brighter now than for months. Reports from every quarter are encouraging and the better times we have been patiently awaiting are not a probability of the dim, distant future, but are being realized.

Lima, altho this city's industries generally did not suffer as greatly as did those of practically every other city, is feeling the effect of the wide-spread resumption of operations. Industrially the city is fast getting its stride and the confidence shown by business men is most encouraging. One of the most significant undertakings during the last week was the awarding of the contract for the big factory building of the Lima Sheet Metal Products Co., work on which started yesterday. The board of directors of this concern, composed of a number of the city's most conservative business men, is not an organization which would take a gamble.

DANGER IN THE YOUNG BILL

66 PREEZE-OUT" among the nations of the earth is established by the United States with the passage of the Young emergency tariff bill. Under the guise and name of protection it erects a veritable Chinese wall and offers a prolific source of alarm to the industrial interests of the United States.

National isolation becomes more pointed with the enactment of this measure. If we succeed in proving to various nations with whom we desired to trade that there is something besides a selfish motive in this measure, it is going to be a big task. And then there is the danger of immediate reprisals. This tendency has been felt for some time, in fact.

For instance, there is the decrease in our foreign trade figures for the last few months, which indicates that some other nations are leaving us out of their considerations. It is doubtful if the policy of building a high protective wall will reopen factories in America, from whose stacks columns of 'smoke haven't curled upward for many months. It isn't going to provide work for thousands upon thousands of the army of the unemployed.

And it isn't going to cement our friendship with other nations. Quite to the contrary, it will be found that the Young emergency tariff measure will exclude us from necessary foreign markets. It will prove a prohibitive act against countries whose business we seek and require in order to keep the wheels moving and men at work.

That this will be the inevitable result is the consensus of opinion of men who are in position to know what such measures really do, instead of what they are expected to do by those who fondly stand in the position of wet nurses to them.

IRISH RELIEF

↑ MERICA'S great heart has been opened to the Armenians, the Servians, the Russians, Jews, Poles, Italians, Belgians, Austrians, Germans, Chinese and others.

Now there is suffering in Ireland and American charity will not stay its hand. In fact, purse strings have already been opened in a generous manner for the relief of the suffering peoples of the Emerald Isle. When there is human misery to be alleviated, there is no polftics in it. It makes little difference what opinions we may individually entertain as to the Irish problem, of Sinn Fein methods or the action of the British in Ireland, the facts as presented by the American committee for relief of Ireland, verified by Irishmen of all political and religious affiliation, are such as to stir American sympathy and open American purses generously and quickly.

It is proposed by the American committee for relief in Ireland to raise $10,250,000, which will be expended by responsible agencies for the care of underfed children, the rebuilding of dwellings, the reconstruction of cooperative industries destroyed in the fighting, the restocking of farms and the aid of suffering and destitution generally.

It has been proven positively that this aid is needed to prevent regions of Ireland from lapsing into a state of semi-starvation. The campaign for this relief is now under way and it should not fail; it will not fail. When America is stirred by the needs of others, response is quick. In the case of Ireland there is no question but that aid is necessary. That is the reason why, on all occasions when the opportunity is afforded, Americans hearken to the cry of the distressed across the sea. 0 0 0 0 0

OCCUPATION AND MARRIAGE

OVE laughs at locksmiths. That is an old saying and a true one. The little god also laughs at other restraints, latest among which is tradition. This has been demonstrated in the Rhine district of Germany, occupied by French and Belgian troops, awaiting final satisfaction of reparations, the penalty Germany must pay for having lost the war.

Love laughs also at race barriers. The number of Poilus who have been united in marriage to German lassies is large and the total is constantly increasing. Wherever youth and maiden meet there will be some match-making, even when the youths wear the uniform of conquerors. It was the same way when the invading Germans were occunving parts of France

But then there has always been a connection between love and war. There is a special connection between love and anything that creates or contributes to romance. War is such a contributor. Wherever troops are located, love-making is going on. This is not only because the young men are of marrying age, but because there is about them a glamour of bravery and chivalry which makes them peculiarly attractive to the fair sex.

The Germans do not like the marriages between French soldiers and the German girls. Some protests of an official nature have been sent to the French authorities from Germany, the Germans complaining that the Treaty of Versailles is violated in allowing these marriages. The Germans try to make it unpleasant for the German bride of a French soldier. A notice is posted that a German girl has "married an enemy" and the girl's parents are held personally responsible—a sort of a request that they be socially ostracised.

And the French, seeing that the Germans do not like it, lay no barrier to the Poilus taking German maidens to wife. They feel too that such match-making serves well as propaganda for French culture.

0 0 0 0 0 MISS LIMA: It's about 50-50 after all. When a woman murders a man, they don't punish her. And when a man kills a woman they don't catch him.

GRAIN PRICES FIRM;

PRODUCE UNCHANGED

Tunness in grain prices showed s effect Saturday when local millers raised the price they were paying for old wheat to $1.40 2 bushel. Prices had been $130.

Produce prices were unchanged. both wholesale and retail. Decline in cheese prices were expected because of weakness in the value of butterfat. Butter was steady in the local market.

Cleveland continued to hammer down butter prices. Declines of a cent and a half a pound were seen all grades. Prints were 34 and 14 1-2 while fancy dairy was selling for 16 to 21 1-2 cents a pound. Eggs were higher. Northern ex-

Tas were up a cent to 26 1-2 and to 21 cents a dozen

Potatoes were steady with the supply equal to the demand.

Why should the anthracite coal people fancy that they should be preserved from the effects of the depression which has enguifed all the rest all that is done by the operators is of us? Why do they think that the to snarl at those who are trying to public are unreasonable in demanding that coal prices be reduced, the same as everything else? The Truth in Business, Finance and Investments, As We See It

GERMANY'S SETTLEMENT

The reparation settlement was the most important financial event of the week. Of immediate importance to us, is the effect on Europe's making industry by the volume of tion-wide publicity. The coal sponsor their protests against the article I man, however, was not prepared to recently wrote warning them that accept the challenge.

their refusal to reduce prices threatened to culminate in grave trouble. How nice it would be to be engaged in an industry in a position to effect on international trade will depend upon to what extent the rest of the world will absorb German goods-

> Three series of bonds are provided for, the first two of 3 billions and 9½ billions respectively. The third is for 20½ billions. The interest rate 5 percent. The third series is not to be issued until the German payments suffice to provide interest and sinking fund for persuade their workers that it would the bonds of the first two series and to yield a surplus besides. The be beneficial to every one, including fixed annual interest charges of the first two series represent about three-quarters of a billion. To meet this Germany must pay half a billion plus 26 percent of her aggregate exports.

As all of the payments have to be made abroad, the great question is whether Germany can build up a favorable export balance of the required proportions. IF ALL THE WORLD WELCOMED GER-MAN GOODS IT MIGHT BE DONE, but with the present attitude in Haven't our vast agricultural population lost money? Haven't cotton growers lost money? Haven't cotton so full of dynamite?

America, in England and in France it looks doubtful. As has been hinted, the third class bond may represent nothing but watered stock, so full of dynamite?

If that is the case the indemnity is less than half as his account of the control of the case the indemnity is less than half as his account of the case the ca

AUTO FACTORIES LEAD RECOVERY

April figures received from the Labor Department, show that automobile factories are leading in the recovery of United States industry. increased employment has been reported in eight major industries, while decreases were reported for the remaining six. The largest increase was in the automobile industry at 25.2 percent. Others were Wool, 22.3 percent; hosiery and underwear 7-6 percent; men's clothing 7 per cent; silk 5-2 percent; cigars 5.6 percent; boots and shoes 8 percent and cotton finishing 1.7 percent. Decreases were shown in car building and repairing, iron and It should be added in fairness that steel, leather workers, paper making and coal mining.

LIMA SHEET METAL PRODUCTS_COMPANY

The construction of the new factory for The Lima Sheet Metal Products Company was started today. On Friday, May 13th, this contract was let. This has been contemplated for considerable time, but owing to the high cost of material and labor, this work has been held up. After thoroughly investigating the situation, the directors now feel justified in going ahead. The work has been let to the Lima Construction Company, a well known local concern, and they have agreed to complete this building in about $420

The stockholders should feel very much encouraged by this news. While the profits have been very encouraging in the old plant on East Wayne Street, where the company has operated since it was organized, everybody has realized that the cost of doing business has been excessive due to lack of floor space and innumerable other handicaps and manufacturing facilities. According to Mr. Ackerman, the President of the company the saving in operation will be belween 10% and .12%.

The main building of this new plant will be 234 feet long and 60 fect wide, with three wings 40 by 60 feet extending to the North. The manufacturing space provided in this new plant will equal three times the space contained in the old plant on East Wayne street and the saving in manufacturing cost plus the increased manufacturing facilities affords this company the opportunity to make a wonderful record in earnings.

The Policy of the Board of Directors of the sheet metal company has been one of conservatism. A capital of $300,000 for a business of this kind is very conservative. The earnings in the operation of the new plant should prove very satisfactory and it is on these earnings that the future price of the stock will be based-

Due to two years of successful operation, we feel that the stage of speculation has passed, and the future of this company assured. We have no hesitancy in offering the remaining portion of $50,000 common stock at $12.50 per share to the most conservative

Friday evening, we hear the sound of a band. Looking out of our office window, we see the Lima Liberty Band leading a procession a thousand strong, the Lima Locomotive Club having a gala night and starting the fun with a procession. It makes a find sight as they march by. Most of these men are STOCKHOLDERS in the company for which they work. The Lima Locomotive Company may well be proud of these men, as they are proud to be partners in the leading industry in this section of the country. There is a fine spirit in Lima.
